BCS MOVING TO THE NEXT LEVEL

When we launched the Capital Campaign two years ago our goal was to bring BCS to the next level and as we sit on the cusp of this leap I am filled with great pride. This success comes from the effort of so many people who have contributed in many different ways. It is a privilege to lead such a great School and to be a part of such a dedicated and supportive community.

After a lot of thought and consideration I have decided not to seek a renewal of my contract at the end of the 2002–2003 school year. I will have been Head of BCS for eight years and the goals I was given when I accepted the position in 1995 have been accomplished. It is time now to look at where BCS needs to go in the next eight years and to let someone else take it there.

I will continue to serve to the best of my ability in the coming school year. We are entering a very exciting year filled with new initiatives and projects. One area of school life that is being reviewed and analyzed is communication and the efforts we are making and will be making to improve communication within our school community and beyond. Communication creates the synergy that allows the whole to be stronger than the parts. Therefore, it must be considered an essential function in achieving excellence at BCS.

We are nestled in the beautiful eastern Townships far away from the hustle and bustle of larger city centres. Ironically, this is both a blessing and a curse. One of the major advantages the students have while attending BCS is to experience country life and wide open space. This also means that the challenge of maintaining top-of-mind status with perspective parents is far greater. The use of technology and the World Wide Web is crucial to communicate quickly and efficiently but a far more powerful tool to use is word-of-mouth – in short you!

The actions we are taking are based on the results of both the communications survey, which many of you were kind enough to complete and return, and the CESI report. Theo Brinckman has analyzed the data and created a plan to address the issues raised and suggestions proposed. It is important to note that a strong communication programme never stays the same for very long, rather it grows and adapts to changing needs, new technology and measurement.

Communication in a school like ours takes place on so many levels. Those directly involved in the day to day activities such as staff, students and parents want and need to know about changes to the schedule, routines, rules and procedures. They need to know when there are problems or issues that might affect them and what actions are being taken. Alumni want to know how their school is doing – the success of school teams, up-coming events, the well-being of a respected staff member – and they want news of one another.

The School wants to make sure that everyone is well-informed so that they can speak about BCS to prospective families. We know that the majority of our students are referred to us by those who have a personal connection. It is crucial to our well-being to have greater consistency in enrolment so that we can plan for the future with greater assurance.

A new website and a regular e-newsletter will be perhaps the more high profile and public projects taken to improve communication. But it may be some of the less visible actions that have the greatest impact. More time for staff to meet and share ideas, discuss issues and plan for the future, greater use of e-mail to get information to staff, parents and Alumni, and access to information on-line are some of the important steps being taken.

As I enter into my final year as Head of BCS I am faced with conflicting emotions. Certainly it will be difficult for me to leave but before that day in June arrives we have much to accomplish. Such is life at BCS and for this I am grateful.

Joe Stairs and Nancy Layton.

We are entering a very exciting year filled with new initiatives and projects.

From the Board Chair

June 2002 marked the end of the 30th year of coeducation at BCS. This has been a period of successful transition from a school for boys only, merging with King's Hall in 1972 and establishing itself so that it was able to appoint the first female Head of a coed boarding school in Canada in 1995: Nancy Layton.

Doug Patriquin (BCS '64)

Also in June of this year, Nancy gave notice of her intention to resign as Head of School after the end of the next school year in June, 2003. Her announcement came as a surprise, but it was timed so that BCS would have ample opportunity to identify a worthy successor in this challenging and key role.

Nancy has one more year with us and for this we are thankful because at the end of her tenure she will be missed. During her time as Head of BCS, Nancy's achievements have been numerous and we have benefited from her commitment, hard work and love of School and its students. Under her leadership the School has continued to develop its coeducational expertise and has enjoyed an excellent academic record:

- Last year all our graduating students were accepted into post-secondary institutions.
- Over the last three years, more than $1 million has been earned in university entrance scholarships by our students.
- Our students continue to produce extraordinary creative work as seen in Inscape and numerous other publications and competitions.

We intend to build on these successes, to further strengthen BCS's academic offerings and reputation, and to maintain our rich co-curricular programme and international orientation.

In this period the School's finances have strengthened and this year will see the successful achievement of our $15 million Capital Campaign goal. Its success is a testament to the strong support of our Friends and especially our Alumni.

As BCS starts its 167th year, it enters a period of change and renewal: the necessity and the opportunity that occur when a school changes its leadership. I am confident that the transition will be both smooth and productive. Faculty, houseparents and staff continue to be focused on their business of teaching and caring for our students, who are returning to the School at higher retention rates than we have seen for many years. BCS has been in its present location on Moulton Hill for exactly 80 years; after a very busy summer of renovation and repair, the grounds and facilities look terrific!

The Canadian Educational Standards Institute (CESI) reviewed the School in the spring, and confirmed BCS's accreditation in June. Over the next year the School will respond to a wide variety of observations from its own internal evaluation prepared for the review as well as to visiting committee's recommendations, covering virtually all areas of the School's programme.

And BCS will welcome its 27th Head. A broadly-based search committee composed of Alumni, parents, faculty and administrators as well as board members has been struck to develop criteria, oversee the selection process and recommend a candidate to the Board. We are confident this approach will uncover a leader who will complement the great strengths of BCS's staff, combine the best characteristics of his or her 26 predecessors, and mirror their common commitment to and love for this very special Canadian school.

From the Director of Academics

Claude Hackett,
Director of Academics

As we enter into the busy school year I always like to take time to reflect on what we have achieved and where we want to go. BCS is about excellence; BCS is about improving what has come before to make what will come even better.

BCS students work very hard and it is gratifying to see them recognized, whether it be at June Graduation, through competitions, proud parents or discerning University Admissions Officers. With a solid group of returning students and a core of talented newcomers, the 2002–2003 school year looks very promising, and I look forward to being able to recognize the many achievements they will accomplish in the coming months.

Recently, the Academic Performance Review Committee (APRC) was established and its mandate is to oversee and review the academic performance of the School. In May, the Board adopted indicators of academic excellence and performance goals proposed by the APRC. The indicators relate to the following areas:

- University Entrance
- Quebec Secondary School Diplomas
- Ministry of Education Exam Results
- Second Language Proficiency
- Participation in the Creative Arts.

We are in the early stages of this process and the programme will grow to include a more comprehensive list of indicators.

One of our challenges this fall will be to create an implementation plan for the recommendations in the BCS Internal Evaluation and in the Canadian Educational Standards Institute (CESI) External Evaluation. A committee has been created to determine priorities and to create a timeline for the recommendations.

The CESI Visiting Committee was impressed with the quality of our academic programme and the work ethic of our students. One of the major recommendations, however, was that the School develop ways to work more effectively. One means to accomplish this challenge is for the School to develop an academic vision that will provide direction for all academic decisions.

Below are other key details for the 2002–2003 school year:

- We will develop a more cohesive academic programme in the younger Forms.
- In an effort to provide our parents with more academic information on their children, Progress

Reports will be issued to parents in early October and early February. These will be added to the four formal reports parents already receive each year. The reports will rate five areas of student progress: punctuality; organisation of materials; homework; behavior; and appropriate involvement in class.

- Effort ratings will be distributed by e-mail to parents.
- A Mentoring programme has been established to monitor each student's academic progress, to encourage academic excellence, to help students find solutions to their academic difficulties, and to discuss School or Form related issues.
- The Academic Guide for Parents has been revised and will be distributed to parents in the fall. The guide is available on the School's web-site (www.bishopscollegeschool.com).
- We have revised the Academic Guide for Staff to ensure continuity in the application of rules within the Academic programme.

The 2002–2003 academic year is looking strong and will only get stronger as we implement changes and improvements. I look forward to June when we can once again celebrate our School and student's achievements and successes.

Meet the Admissions Team

Valerie Scullion,
Theresa Loubier and Maggie George.

Since being selected as Director of Admissions six months ago, I have had the opportunity to conduct a thorough review of the recruiting and admissions procedures. We have implemented a streamlined method for dealing with inquiries and applications and have developed a new advertising approach. We are working on our goal of including more of the BCS constituency in the enrollment process and have confirmed the recruiting plan for the 2003–2004 school year.

Joining me on this team are Admissions Associate, Valerie Scullion and the Admissions Assistant, Theresa Loubier. Valerie brings experience in administration and professional training as a travel consultant. This background, along with her excellent people skills, makes her an invaluable member of our team. She and her husband Dan Leger, are Houseparents of Grier North.

Theresa Loubier, the Admissions Assistant, has twenty years experience in Admissions at BCS and not only manages our database of inquiries and applicants, but also has taken on the very important service of helping students apply for their student visas. With an international student population of 40% this is a key role in Admissions.

Enrollment Profile September 2002

Personal referrals work wonders!

During the past six months we have also seen an increase in the number of admissions referrals from members of our constituency. Board members referring business colleagues, Alumni referring friends, current parents referring neighbours, students recommending BCS to friends at summer camp – the list goes on. This is definitely our most important recruiting tool. The personal recommendation from someone who knows BCS almost always results in a successful admission. This summer several of our teachers volunteered to spread the word of BCS on their vacation travels, locally, nationally and internationally. Thank you everyone!

SCHOLARSHIPS FOR BCS LEGACY STUDENTS

Alumni are reminded that two special scholarships – The BCS Alumni Association Scholarship, The KHC Old Girls' Scholarship – are specifically designated for the children or grandchildren of Alumni of BCS or KHC. Scholarships at BCS are merit-based awards and new applicants with overall averages of 85% or more may apply for a scholarship. These scholarships range in value from $4,000 to $6,000.

School Events

AS YOU LIKE IT

Performed by Bishop's College School Players' Club on March 6th to 9th, and directed by Margot Dionne.

Family disputes, redemption, true love, vindictive aristocracy, and a healthy dose of cross dressing permeate this Shakespearean tale. It is a court divided, driven by an obsessive Duke and felt the most by an exiled Duchess. Families and friends are torn asunder. Political games and personal vendettas are played out. In the end, love and forgiveness heal all wounds and everyone lives happily ever after.

The staging and design of the play was adapted to suit the 1960's, and justly so. The Duchess is getting back to nature, living a communal existence, away from the courts, the politics, the intrigues. This adaptation is almost seamless, as the country folk/city folk humor stands just as well today as it must have in Shakespeare's day. Even the songs originally composed for the play were performed in the Joan Baez / Joni Mitchell folk tradition, lending even more authenticity to the 60's feel of the whole play.

The students in this production have done a magnificent job of encapsulating their characters, and breathing a life into the text to an almost professional degree.

Lily Dionne, Sam Giguere, Eric Inoue, ... heck the entire cast have done such an amazing job putting energy and sophistication into some of the best student acting I've seen in a long time. Obviously, credit must also go to Margot Dionne, as her staging, direction, patience, and drive for quality contributed to a highly enjoyable, incredibly performed, first class night of theatre. She will be sorely missed!

BCS IN BEIJING THANKS TO A STUDENT'S INITIATIVE

It is very satisfying to watch a student's idea come into fruition and positively impact the School. Such is the case with the 2002 Model United Nations trip to China.

In early 2001, Tara Yip-Bannicq (BCS '03) introduced the School to Model United Nations. She had come from a school in Beijing that had a major focus on Model U.N., holding a conference every year.

On March 18, 2002, we left for Beijing to participate in a Model U.N. session. As we flew out of Montreal, we were filled with excitement and apprehension about travelling so far from home. Our plan was to spend twelve days in China visiting Beijing and Xi'an – both to participate in the Model U.N. and to tour the two cities.

We were fortunate to have the time to sightsee and learn about the Chinese culture. Some highlights of these excursions included: The Great Wall, The Ming Tombs, an acrobatic show and of course dining in authentic Chinese restaurants.

Once the students had registered for the Model U.N. Conference the real work began. Each student made an opening speech and then the lobbying began. Each forum had about six resolutions to debate. Resolutions had to be developed, written and signatories found and when this was completed they were presented to the forums, debated and voted upon. This was a demanding challenge but one which the BCS students rose to and put their best effort forward.

Our visit was capped by a welcome at the Canadian Embassy. We were hosted by Ambassador and Mrs. Caron, whose son, André, graduated from BCS in 2001. Our sincere thanks and gratitude go out to the Yip-Bannicq family who made our trip wonderful and welcoming. Our Chinese adventure would not have been possible without the generous donation by Joy Harvie MacLaren (KHC '40). We also welcomed the presence of Mr. and Mrs. Mpoy who spent time with us at the conference and on some of our excursions.

And so it is possible for a student to make a change. Thank you Tara for your vision!

BCS says "Good-bye" to departing staff...

BCS said good-bye to some very special people who have given a great deal of themselves to the School and who will be missed.

Katie Breen, a first year science teacher, became our new Adventure Training specialist and led the first ever Ondatjie Endeavour to Lapland. She is teaching in the Quebec City region.

Reinhard and Janet Kranz came to BCS two years ago when Reinhard implemented computer courses in all Senior Forms and established the Technology Committee. Janet took on the task of running Gillard House and there are many girls who will remember her thoughtfulness and support during her two years there. They return to their former school in Ontario.

Margot Dionne has talents that few schools get to appreciate. The performances that she has been able to draw from the BCS Players' Club have been remarkable, but more importantly it is the drama classes that have benefited most. Margot goes back to her true love – acting – as she rejoins the company at Stratford.

There are likely not many BCS houseparents who have looked after both boys and girls in the same house and that makes Jane Jelowicki rather unique! She has helped both junior girls and junior boys settle in to the routines of BCS and while their needs might have been different, her constant presence has made a difference. Jane will divide her time between Great Britain and the Eastern Townships.

John and Marylea Reid were houseparents – first in Glass and then in Smith. John, an Old Boy, has shown today's generation that it is all right to care about the guys in your house, your teammates and your School. Marylea will be remembered in her own right, especially by the students whom she has tutored over the last few years. They have moved back to Ottawa.

Nelson Williams leaves BCS to fulfill a dream – founding his own school in Brockville! Nelson and Diane have been dedicated houseparents to McNaughton boys who will never forget what they have done for them. Nelson's commitment to all aspects of school life – sports, cadets, chapel and a variety of activities have made BCS a better school and he leaves gigantic shoes to fill.

Steve Zatylny's boundless energy and willingness to organize and supervise a wide variety of student activities made a difference to the quality of BCS life. His absence is felt by many.

and "Welcome" to incoming staff

We have several new staff members joining the BCS team in September. They offer expertise and enthusiasm that will strengthen and enrich the School.

Neal Allan is a boarding school expert. He went to a boarding school and he has worked at two CAIS boarding schools as a teacher, house supervisor and coach. He also has considerable experience in summer camps. His enthusiasm will be appreciated by the boys in McNaughton where he will be the houseparent. Neal will also coordinate student activities and thus serve as staff advisor to the Carnival, Grad and Student Activity Committees as well as work with the students to plan activities throughout the year.

Roselyne De-Baets will assume the role of houseparent in Gillard House. She has lived and worked in the Eastern Townships for the past ten years at both Bishop's University and the Université de Sherbrooke. She is trilingual, speaking English, French and Spanish and is looking forward to the prospect of creating a positive environment for the girls.

Francis Delisle joins the French Department after completing a B. Ed. and B. A. at Bishop's University. Francis received a very prestigious award for outstanding professionalism from the Quebec Provincial Association of Teachers this year and will be a great addition to our dynamic French Department.

Glenn and Monica Faucher first came to our attention when he worked as a BU student a number of years ago and we are delighted to have them back on campus as they move into Grier South as Houseparents. Glenn played basketball at BU and will be a good addition to the coaching staff. Monica, a sports therapist, has a clinic on campus for our students.

Scott Kelso joined the BCS faculty last year as a one-year replacement but he was too good to let go! He is taking over the helm in Smith House where he did duty last year. Scott will be teaching English and managing the Round Square Exchange programme.

Reverend Patricia Lisson is already known to many in the BCS community as the mother of Kevin (BCS '02), Emma ('05) and Luke ('07). She comes to St. Martin's Chapel from the Richmond Melbourne United Church where she has served for the past nine years. Patricia will also be looking after the junior boys in Williams House.

Duane Liverpool returns to the English Department after a year away during which he continued his studies at BU and was part of the coaching staff for the Gaiters football team.

Dan Rae says that there are three C's that anchor his drama instruction: concentration, co-operation, and characterization. Besides theatre, Dan has taught classes in film studies which we hope to bring to BCS under his leadership.

Kathy Rae (yes, she is married to Dan) will be teaching our Computer Science/IT courses. She comes to BCS from St. Michael's University School where she has been recognized as one of their best teachers with a teaching excellence award. Kathy will help us integrate computer skills into the curriculum and is keen on working with faculty who want to use technology in their teaching.

In Conversation with Our Diverse Community

The art of good communication is very much based on dynamic dialogue. Dialogue is a conversation in which people think together in relationship. Thinking together implies that you no longer take your own position as final. You relax your grip on certainty and listen to the possibilities that result simply from being in a relationship with others – possibilities that might not otherwise have occurred.

Our School is made up of 18 languages and 25 nationalities. With such a diverse community, communicating is not always an easy task, but one that the School must be ready to meet.

It is easy to fall into the rhythm of the School and to continue to communicate the way we always have and publish material we have traditionally used. Although understandable, this is not the most effective approach to ensure we are meeting the communications needs of our community. Our School has changed over the last decade, and with the emerging multi-cultural and multi-lingual face of BCS, comes the need to develop a plan that ensures we are effectively communicating with our entire community, regardless of the language they speak or the culture they come from.

The communication programme must be continually evaluated to determine what is working and where our opportunities lie. The first step in this process is analysis. Who is our community? How are we reaching them? How effective is our current programme? These questions were answered, in part, through the use of surveys.

Last spring's surveys revealed a need to fine-tune certain elements and they identified missed opportunities and audiences. From these findings, it became essential to prioritize our needs and not tackle everything at once. It is far better to complete fewer objectives successfully than to attempt to change everything at once with a mediocre result. We can always expand our scope once we have laid a strong foundation.

I invite you to engage in dialogue so that we can work together to develop and enhance the two-way and dynamic conversation we are having in our community. This is the first step but certainly not the last!

SURVEY RESULTS: THE GENERAL PICTURE

Last spring's communication surveys were sent to our main community groups. This was a necessary first step in improving our programme and establishing our objectives. The survey results reveal many interesting findings but space does not allow a detailed report on them. Here are the major findings:

- There is a sincere appreciation for the commitment shown by the staff.
- People are proud to be associated with BCS and are willing to recommend the School to others.
- Financial giving is well covered although we can do a better job at showing how your money is being used.
- More consistent and personalized communications is required using e-mail and the Website.
- The Website needs to be managed to accurately reflect the School and its high standards.
- More information is required on School events, sports, student life and staff achievements.
- There is a need to market BCS better to the outside world.
- Internal communications need to become more open and efficient.

KEEP YOUR EYES OUT FOR... THE BCS E-TIE

The BCS Tie was established in October 1991 with the goal of "communicating ideas and information, communicating feelings, aspirations, concerns plans and goals". The BCS Tie is being revived with a modern twist. A lot has changed in our world since 1991 and one of those changes is the speed of communication. Gone are the days when Canada Post and paper are automatically the method of communication. Today, we have a wide range of choices from mail to fax to the Internet to e-mail. The BCS E-Tie will be a virtual publication available through the BCS Website and via e-mail.

Life at BCS is busy and filled with a myriad of activities in the areas of sports, academics, service and fun. This timely newsletter will offer you the latest on campus life through updates on sports and both student and staff achievements. Through The BCS E-Tie, we can celebrate our victories and ponder our losses together.

The BCS E-Tie will offer you the opportunity to gain a more intimate insight into the day-to-day life at BCS.

Keep your eyes out for The BCS E-Tie coming your way via the website (www.bishopscollegeschool.com) or e-mail.

THE BCS WEBSITE — RELAUNCH

Clean. Relevant. Efficient. Sleek. Organized. Distinctly BCS. These are all words that can be used to describe the new Website. It is the School's resolve to keep the site fresh and constantly evolving. We want to give you a reason to add BCS to your favorite website list.

The site is modern in its simplicity. Our goal — three clicks to get you where you want to be. We did it!

We have added new features to meet the needs of our community. They include athletic scores and updates, on-line giving, daily news items, feedback capabilities, photo galleries and more. The site is geared to meet the needs of parents, Alumni, perspective families, staff and students.

Most importantly, the information on the site will be kept up-to-date and relevant. To accomplish this objective, we have created a Website Team who will be responsible for updating the site on a daily basis.

In order to encourage input and to solicit ideas, we have included a feedback form and encourage you to complete it once you have had the opportunity to browse the new site (www.bishopscollegeschool.com).

E-MAIL CORRESPONDANCE

Through the survey feedback, it became clear that this is the preferred method of communication by the majority of you. More and more we live in a wired world and BCS is committed to offering e-information and correspondence.

Please rest assured that we will not inundate you with e-mail after e-mail, rather we will choose carefully the letters, announcements and notices that will be sent. Our objective: to keep you better informed of upcoming events and School news in a timely and efficient manner. For those of you who are not avid e-mail users there is no need to worry because we plan to balance our method of communication between new technology and traditional methods, such as putting pen to paper and writing you personalised notes.

These are just a few of the visible changes you will see happening. At the same time we will be working hard at adapting and fine-tuning our internal programme (faculty and staff) to meet the ever-changing needs of the community.

I invite you to offer me your feedback and thoughts in the area of communication. Please feel free to contact me directly at BCS or through our feedback form located on the website.

Finally, I can not express enough the importance of the BCS database and keeping it current. It is our most important tool in keeping connected with you. Life is busy and it is not easy to remember to let the School know of these changes, this is why we have tried to make it as easy as possible for you to inform us of any changes to your contact information.

Please feel free to contact me with any ideas or suggestion on communications at BCS.

B.C.S. Alumni Association

LENNOXVILLE, QUÉBEC

Dear Alumni,

I am pleased to report that the Alumni Board Association had a successful and productive year. We connected Alumni to Alumni, we connected Alumni to the School and we supported the goals of the School. We have a strong board and this strength comes directly from the board members themselves. They have been consistently energetic, active and willing to go the extra mile for BCS. Thanks to all of you!

Over the past year, Alumni events have been well attended and continue to attract Alumni from many different years. One of the main objectives of the Alumni Board is to help Alumni stay connected with each other and the School. It is very gratifying to see this goal reached. In an effort to stay in touch with as many Alumni as possible, we are increasingly sending out invitations to events through the use of e-mail so it is very important for the BCS Alumni database to be kept as up-to-date as possible. Please let the School know when you have a change of address, phone number or e-mail address otherwise you may miss out on some great times with good friends.

The Annual Giving Campaign was a great success last year. This is very encouraging. It is not easy to run an annual campaign and a capital campaign at the same time but thanks to your generosity and support we have been able to accomplish this feat. It is encouraging to see that Alumni, parents and friends understand the importance of giving to BCS and through the Annual Giving Campaign, BCS is able to maintain and improve upon its standards of excellence. Thank you for your support, loyalty and friendship. I invite you to keep finding all the many great reasons there are to support our fine School.

Finally, it is time for me to step down as President of the BCS Alumni Association Board. I would like to take this opportunity to thank all of you who supported and helped me over the past two years, including Lew Evans and Theo Brinckman whose advice and support have been much appreciated. I have learned a lot from this experience and I take with me many fond memories. I now pass on the reins to David Brodeur who I know will more than match my accomplishments and will lead the Alumni Association Board into another successful year. Good luck David!

Yours truly,

KATHERINE VELAN-BEKINS

ADVENTURE TRAVEL, THE BCS WAY!

When Charlie Scott (BCS '89) graduated from BCS, he knew that he wanted to become a stockbroker... thirteen years later he is worlds away from the money business.

The Alumni Board hosts a programme to bring Alumni to BCS to speak to students about what they have done since graduation. The focus is on people who have done things somewhat off the beaten track. Charlie was the latest Alumni to share his story.

On June 7th, 2002 Charlie spoke to the School about life, challenge and his love of travel and how he went from dreaming of money to dreaming of the world. From BCS, Charlie headed to Queen's University and began to fulfill his ambition of becoming a stockbroker. He soon realized that this path was not for him and decided to take some time off to travel.

Once he got the travel bug there was no looking back for Charlie and he has been working for Butterfield and Robinson ever since. His company offers adventure travel at its best and this has kept Charlie on the go.

Charlie spoke to the School in Chapel where he described some of his many adventures in countries ranging from Vietnam, Turkey, well you get the idea. His message: "we must not be confined by the ordinary; rather we must go out and seek the extraordinary." No need to sleep in a fine hotel when you can camp on a junk! No need to have a structured and definite plan, when you can rent a moped and head to the hills! The students were riveted and it was plain that they were already planning a trip or two as Charlie spoke.

After Chapel, Charlie wowed students in a break off session with a magical slide show and more stories of his adventures. Charlie, not to be confined by the expected, finished off his session by taking the students outside and helped them plan a dream adventure trip.

A SPRINGTIME BCS STAFF REUNION

On Friday and Saturday, May 24th and 25th, Founder's Day Weekend 2002, BCS welcomed back a number of former staff members, many of whom had not visited the campus in many years.

Friday, May 24th — Among those greeting one another in the Peter Holt Library for cocktails before an 'indoor BBQ' in Ross Hall, were: Jim and Pat Whitelaw, Stew and Ibby Large, Ron Owen, John Cowans (BCS '54), Alexis Troubetzkoy, George Allan, and present staff 'old timers', Krystain and Jane Jelowicki, David and Cheryl Dutton, Lew and Cathy Evans, Mark and Louise St. Jacques and John Reid.

Saturday, May 25th — Saturday was given entirely to reminiscing during brunch, tours of the School, or just visiting old campus haunts. At 6:00pm, everyone was warmly greeted at Plantation for cocktails by Nancy Layton and Joe Stairs. The group was joined by Art and Helen Campbell, Jenny Campbell Vaughan (BCS '76), Mary Holt Cowans (KHC '54), Francine Roy and her husband Raymond Paré, Dorothy Hewson, Diane Brydon, Helen Greffard, David Turner and Illoma Carr. A Gala Dinner in Ross Hall prepared by Laurie Powell and her able staff followed. This happy dinner was enhanced by many toasts and stories.

Regrets were received from Bill Badger (BCS '53), Margo Graham Heyerhoff (KHC '69), Bob and Ann Bedard, Mike Peterman, and Alex and Rosemary Robertson. The gathering was a great success enjoyed by all, and many thanks are due to the generosity of the School and especially efforts by Lew Evans and Theo Brinckman in the Development Office for making this get-together possible.

THE 2002 ALUMNI GOLF TOURNAMENT

Orford Golf Course — June 7, 2002

Alumni, students and faculty joined together to enjoy a fabulous day of golf and friendship. Spirits were high as everyone headed out in their carts for the shotgun start and the energy did not flag. The golfing was great although there were grumbles as balls landed in trees and bunkers. The club offered a delicious buffet, which was very much appreciated by the hungry golfers.

Some highlights:

- Kurt Johnson (BCS '84) in the woods but amazingly not winning 'most honest golfer' honours. This year the coveted prize went to Chris Oldland (BCS '88).

Pat Leblond (BCS '87),
Men's Champion.

Kurt Johnson (BCS '84)
... lost again.

- John Reid and Jeff Bray madly calculating the scores as the party raged on around them.
- The BCS 1988 boys getting together after far too long.
- James Smith, Scott Stevenson (BCS '85) and Claude Hackett failing miserably to flag down the drinks cart.
- Jon-Erik Dillon (BCS '03), Nancy Layton, Doug Patriquin (BCS '64) and Raymond Setlakwe (BCS '46) helping push the drink cart when it got mired in mud. Jon-Erik was sprayed with mud but still had high spirits and a huge grin.

The School would like to thank the BCS Alumni Association for organising this special event. Many friends and Alumni offered prizes and thanks go to: John Dunn (BCS '84), Katherine Velan-Bekins (BCS '86), David Brodeur (BCS '86), Aaron Patella (BCS '93), Catherine de Sainte-Marie (BCS '94) and Alain Fournier.

The day was made even more special because of the generosity of Brian Dillon, owner of the Orford Golf Course and parent of Jon-Erik Dillon (BCS '03). He not only helped organize this great event, but offered the School, Alumni and friends a not-to-be-beat golfing package.

The Stories Behind the Numbers

BUILDING FINANCIAL STRENGTH

Over the past seven years, BCS has made dramatic progress in strengthening its financial position. From a debt level of $2.5 million at the end of the 1995 fiscal year, BCS has now achieved its strongest balance sheet in recent memory. As at June 30, 2002, the end of the most recent fiscal year, the School's debt stood at zero.

It is important to recognize that there are indeed two separate financial entities that involve BCS: the BCS Foundation and the operations of the School itself. The BCS Foundation, which manages the School's endowment and building funds, operates with its own Board of Directors. It is responsible for both managing the funds which have been raised (principally through the two capital campaigns) and for allocating some of these funds to the School. Without the support of the Foundation, the School itself could not have achieved its current level of financial strength.

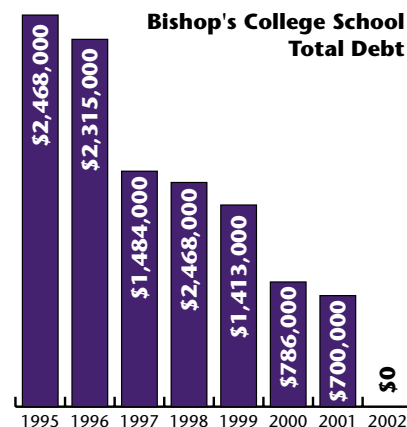

It is also vital to acknowledge the effort and success of BCS's administration in achieving the current zero debt status. Operating a private boarding school that offers as much as BCS does is not an inexpensive undertaking. To do this while also contributing to debt reduction is a singular achievement. Over the past number of years, all members of the BCS community have made a considerable contribution to achieving this status.

There is no more important variable in determining the School's health than enrollment. The number of students drives everything. In a post September 11th world, plagued by an uncertain North American economy and ongoing bear market conditions, filling the School in the near term remains a challenge.

That said, all BCS stakeholders should rest assured that nothing weathers a financial storm better than a strong balance sheet!

—David J. Stenason (BCS '75)
Honorary Treasurer, BCS Association

REPORT FROM FRIENDS OF BCS

As many of you know, the Friends of Bishop's College School, Inc. ("FOBCS") was established in 1999 as a non-profit organization in the US, to provide an opportunity for the graduates of BCS and KHC – and parents and friends of BCS – to support BCS and receive a tax receipt for use in the United States.

Peter G. Smith

During our first three years of operations we have focused on achieving three goals. First, we wanted to better understand the scope and scale of the BCS/KHC community in the US. According to Development Office records, there are over five hundred BCS and KHC graduates living in the US. As you might expect, there is a significant concentration in the Northeast, specifically in the greater Boston area and in the tri-state area around New York City. However, we also have graduates from Florida to California, and in just about every state in between. We also have Alumni representing every decade going back to the thirties.

Second, we wanted to actively participate in the 20/20 Vision Campaign. Through a number of activities, including Development Office communications, group briefing sessions, telephone conversations and face-to-face meetings, we brought the message of the Campaign to the BCS/KHC community in the US. To date, US-based supporters have committed nearly US$500,000 to the Campaign, an extraordinary accomplishment of which we are very proud.

Third, we wanted to build a regular and active dialogue with our US community, through a series of communications, meetings, presentations on the School, and social events, usually with the involvement of the Head of School and the Development Office. Our goal was – and continues to be – to get people excited about the great things that are happening at BCS today.

As we begin our fourth year, we are very proud of our accomplishments, and we are looking forward to building on our success.

If you would like more information about the Friends of Bishop's College School, Inc. or have questions about how you can support FOBCS please send us an e-mail at fobcs@bcs-khc.com. Lewis Evans or Theo Brinckman at the BCS Development Office can also answer your questions.

Finally, I want to thank the FOBCS Board of Directors and the BCS Development Office for all their support over the last three years.

KHC in the '20s... looking Back.

Florence Baker (KHC '25) was born in Yarmouth, NS, on March 29, 1908. She attended KHC from 1922–1925. Her two brothers, Loran and George, attended BCS at about the same time. Flo married Dr. William (Bill) Hewat on Sept 11, 1931 in Halifax. They had two children, Patricia and Gretchen. Today Flo is a grandmother seven times over, and a great-grandmother to 15 great-grandchildren.

Florence Baker

We had many laughs about her time at School. We looked at pictures of friends, all of whom she remembered by name and with some comment such as “she was a pert little thing” or “her father was so and so” etc. The costumes worn included a pullover school sweater and toque (worn in winter) and the familiar navy cardigan trimmed with light blue (like the one hanging in my closet as I write!). There were scenes of sugaring off and girls in afternoon dress as well as fun in the snow and a picture of Miss Jole.

One of Flo's favorite recollections was of doing a Grecian dance on the front oval at closing ceremonies in June. The girls were all dressed in green filmy dresses with ballet slippers and performed a well-rehearsed routine for the parents and friends in attendance. “Didn't you do that?” she asked. “No, Flo, by the early sixties that had been dropped from the agenda.” Thank heavens I said to myself. However the two of us can break into a rendition of “Forty Years On” and shall always have that in common even if 35 years passed between the time she left Compton and I arrived.

Her trip to school must have been something as I remember mine being no walk in the park. Her father drove her and her brothers by car from Yarmouth to Digby, NS. The children took the ferry to St John, NB, where they boarded the train for either Montreal or Lennoxville where she was met by transport for the ride to KHC. She came home at Christmas but went to relatives in Ottawa at Easter. She always felt her classmates thought she was from a fishing village in the back of beyond when really Yarmouth was a thriving town with many diverse interests. The only other Maritimer was a girl from Amherst, NS, whose father was Speaker of the House in Ottawa.

Flo loved the rings in the gym and remembers asking her Gym teacher if she hung from them long enough would she grow taller? She does feel upon reflection that “Compton did not prepare you for the real world!” but it did afford you friendships and memories to be enjoyed in your 95th year.

As an aside, Flo remembers her Father telling her “to read the papers to be intelligent even if you aren't smart!”

Flo plays bridge several times a week, is a keen member of The Lunenburg Art Gallery, The Lunenburg Heritage Society, The Fishermen's Memorial Hospital Ladies Auxiliary and the IODE. Only recently has she given up playing golf but attends all functions at the Club as an honorary member. She is a member of St. John's Anglican Church and is of course distressed by the fire on Hallow'en that destroyed the 245-year-old building. She participates in weekly services in the Parish Hall but confesses she will be glad when the church structure is restored and she can return to the church proper. (Christmas service 2003 is the announced goal for this return).

Needless to say I enjoyed my afternoon recalling the excitement of attending King's Hall in the '20s and thinking about the times I spent at Compton almost 40 years ago. What was truly fun was that I could look at Flo's photo of the School and point out my room in 6b and she could show me, in the same photo, where she too had a room. We were both interested to read in the Gazette of January 26, 2002, about the New Hotel with the long tradition of ladylike manners.

—Sue Clark Kelly (KHC' 63)

175th Anniversary of St. James the Less, Compton

A celebration of the establishment, in Compton, of St. James Church in 1827 was held on Sunday July 21, 2002. The 175th Anniversary Service of Holy Communion was officiated by Canon Curtis Patterson, the present Rector, who assisted by Rev. Barbara Wintle, Deacon of the Parish of Coaticook. The preacher was Rev. Ron Smith. A congregation of over one hundred gathered for the 10:30AM service. Lessons were read by Gerald Parker, grandson of Rev. George Henry Palmer, a former minister of the Church, John Cowans (BCS '54), former Director of King's Hall, and Rev. Wintle.

Dr. Willa Henry (KHC '71) provided flowers on the altar in memory of Rev. Derek Roberts, who was Chaplain of King's Hall for many years. Canon Patterson thanked everyone for attending, offering special mention to KHC Old Girls. He also paid tribute to the work done recently by Russell and Sue Nichols who were responsible for arranging the Anniversary celebrations. He noted that the Church was badly in need of repair and that thanks go to many who donated to the restoration fund, half the roof had been recently restored by Mr. Nichols and other members of the community.

Barbara Ronalds Geerkens (KHC '43), 3rd generation KHC Old Girl, with husband Frank at the anniversary celebration of the St. James Church in Compton. The day was very special to Barbara as her mother had been christened in that very same church in 1896.

Marie Tulk Samson (KHC '43), Barbara Ronalds Geerkens (KHC '43), Frances Robinson Dodds (KHC '40) and Mary Moore Thomson (KHC '43) attended the 175th St. James Church Anniversary service.

KHC Old Girls in attendance included Mary Moore Thomson (KHC '43), Barbara Ronalds Geerkens (KHC '43), Kate Reed Diemand (KHC '59), Marie Tulk Samson (KHC '43), Margaret Anne Forbes Cooper (KHC '45), Barbara Cope Varney (KHC '55), Mary Holt Cowans (KHC '54), Pinkle Sturgeon (KHC '65), Frances Robinson Dodds (KHC '40), Libby Johnson Nixon (KHC '42), and Dorothy Hewson, former teacher and Choir Director of KHC.

Katy Cochran Grass wrote: "Rulliff (my hubby) and I are headed for Barrie, Ontario where we have rented an apartment on Kempenfelt Bay, Lake Simcoe, for at least four years. Our daughter, Sarah Grass Kissick (BCS '77) has lived in Barrie since 1982, and one son David Grass lives twenty minutes away in Orillia. Another son, Bob, is in Goderich. Sarah is the mother of two, Patrick (sixteen) and Dianne (fifteen) who is VERY interested in horses and does a lot of riding, but the grandparents have stated firmly that there will be no purchase of a horse!!! Jim is a teacher, and Sarah works for a Sports store doing their books, but also helps at one of the schools. We have had a very involved, active life in Canmore for sixteen years, and we are going to miss the friends and volunteer work that we do. However, no doubt we can find something similar in Barrie. We won't miss the bears that keep wandering around as I try to go for a walk – alone!

"When we get to Barrie I will have an opportunity to see Jocie Pangmen Shaw, as I did when we were there last winter. Perhaps now I might be able to manage a visit to BCS in the future without having to come from Alberta. Sue Mitchell (BCS '83) visited us this summer as she was out here for a week on a holiday. She is now living in Ottawa."

Katy's new address: #1002, 2 Toronto Street, Barrie, Ont. L4N 9R2. Tel: 705.730.6696.

Jocie Pangman Shaw recently celebrated her 75th birthday with a dinner and musical revue on stage at the Arts & Letters Club of Toronto. There was a cast of 10, including several younger members, one of whom was Elizabeth Nelles Galt (KHC '70), her daughter-in-law.

Suzanne Haas Stohn (KHC '41), Jocelyn Pangman Shaw (KHC '43) and Anne Duncanson Morison (KHC '41) performing at the Arts & Letters Club of Toronto. They still have it!

They will be representing Canada at the 11th Congress of the World Federation of Friends of Museums, being held in Buenos Aires, Argentina this coming October.

Sheila Ramsay Bourke e-mailed:

"I have the fondest memories of KHC – Gilly particularly. I have the utmost regard for her and the management of a whole lot of mainly adolescent girls, which she did with wisdom. There were rules of course, which I suppose, on balance do not exist today, but they were hardly onerous and made for a certain amount of fun breaking them on purpose or through negligence. My grandson started BCS this fall – Adam Tooke – my daughter's son. I hope he enjoys his stay with the School as much I did with KHC."

Ruth Maddocks Ferguson would love to hear from classmates who are in Victoria or other parts of Vancouver Island.

Alexandra Arnold Duncan was happily waiting for her granddaughter to be born in July.

Val Meyer Heidell and husband, Bob, drove from Vero Beach, FL to PEI via Nova Scotia and were able to visit with Willa Ogilvie Creighton and Pat Gruchy Mutch. According to Val it was "a brief but wonderful reunion."

KHC '52

Anne Thorton Tucker e-mailed:

"In May, while we were on Long Island for our newest granddaughter's Baptism, we were able to get over to New Jersey and had a wonderful visit with Val Gill Licht (KHC '53) and her husband Al. I hadn't seen her in at least 45 years. They live in a very active retirement community which they love. Val retired from public health nursing a few years ago but keeps very active in a variety of pursuits including volunteering for the Red Cross. It's amazing how the years melt away when I've seen old school chums."

Anne Cameron Mitchell e-mailed:

"I have just returned from a week in Newfoundland where I had lunch with Joan Parsons Parker in St. John's and was then treated to a tour of her home and garden overlooking a lovely lake ... five minutes from the heart of the city. To say we chatted was an understatement. We're both hoping that our FIFTY YEARS ON reunion will take place in September '03. So, 'sign on gals'. I visit a former matron of the Junior House who is in the Connaught Home for the elderly in North Hatley. She's given me some of the 'inside dope' on life at King's Hall in the 50s. (She came shortly after our class graduated). She's told me a few times she wonders how they ever let me into the place ... all in fun of course."

Maryan King Shepherd e-mailed:

"The news from this part of Australia is that the drought that we've just had on the east coast has broken and we now have water in our rain tanks! Our 'winter' weather has been beautiful up to now with temperatures between 10 and 20 degrees C. I am looking forward to my class reunion in 2003 (50 years on) and all being well will be able to come."

KHC '54

Ann McNally Budge wrote in her news:

"The World Mountain Bike Championship, held at Bromont, Quebec brought me to the Eastern Townships last September. After receiving a gold medal and a UCI rainbow jersey for the women's 60+ category in cross-country I left for Compton.

"My first stop was the excellent museum at the Louis St. Laurent homestead. I enjoyed walking through the home and reminisced about when Anne Shields and I were in Form 6B (in 1952) and, on our 25-cents-to-spend-bi-monthly visit to the village, shoveled an elderly lady's front walk and steps. She asked our names and thanked us graciously. At prayers the following Monday, Gilly called the two of us up. I stood with trembling knees, wondering what naughtiness I'd been up to. Gilly explained that Miss Laura St. Laurent was the Prime Minister's sister – we had no idea whom we had helped!

"Then on to L'hôtel Kings Hall! The old School is, for a second time, a charming country hotel. The owners have done an amazing job, using beautiful fabrics and furniture they brought from England. The Upper Corridor rooms have become beautifully appointed suites – one even has a grand piano! The lower corridor has offices. The Science Room is now a bar. The Red Hall and Gym connect and form a large conference room. The beautiful formal Dining Room has an interesting and creative menu. The Front Hall had a huge floral bouquet in light blue, dark blue and yellow – coincidence, or not, I'm not sure! There is even a guest book exclusively for Old Girls – great reading!"

I have been teaching skiing all these years here, and in my twenties I taught in Switzerland for two years, which was really fun. I have a small psychotherapy practice, and I have my own home-based business, with my sister Dr. Susanne Lam-mot (KHC '57), as well that is very exciting and my main focus at the moment. In our business we use brand new technology with a non-invasive Bio Photonic Scanner to tell people what their antioxidant level is, in other words, how their immune system is doing. My new passtime is bike riding. Our 40th reunion last September was phenomenal. It was so fabulous to see everyone. We had a great turn out. Basically life is really wonderful."

Louise McFarlane Moses e-mailed:

"This past year has been a busy and rewarding one. My grandson Jack turned one year old in February and he and his parents moved to within 15 miles of our home in New Hampshire. Now I get to see him almost every day and what a joy that is. Also, in May, Katie (my daughter) and I participated in the Avon Breast Cancer 3-Day walk in Boston. We walked 60 miles through sun, sleet, snow, rain and just unbelievable conditions. It was exhilarating and exhausting. We spent the entire year training doing 6-mile daily walks with the dogs and Jack. Never been in such good shape in my life. I spent the summer recuperating in North Hatley walking those beautiful hills and relaxing. Daughter Margot is married and living in Minneapolis and John and I are loving our life in New Hampshire. We have been married for 33 years now. I enjoyed going to British Columbia in April to participate in the CAISDO Conference and connecting with my many friends from private schools all over Canada."

KHC '67 Reunion held on Salt Spring Island.

Robin Marshall Comolli, Heather McAlpine Lunk, Maggie Paterson Dunn, Betsy Andras Reburn, Betsy Johnston and Nancy Keyes Frank.

"The week-end of June 7th to 10th saw beautiful weather and six old friends together on Salt Spring Island. Betsy Johnston hosted a small but fun reunion at her B & B Anchorage Cove. Betsy, Robin Marshall Comolli, Betsy Andras, Heather McAlpine Lunka, Nancy Keyes Frank and I ate oysters pulled off the rocks by the dock and the best dun-geeness crab they had ever had (except for Andras whose highly allergic). The walks, sight-seeing, eating and a "little" talking was the most enjoyable. The reunion was not actually that small as numerous e-mails were received from classmates unable to attend. The next reunion is "forty years on" and everyone wants to get together again with more in attendance. We need suggestions for an east-coast venue. Thank you to Betsy for a wonderful week-end. Grampa gets his teeth into it.

What Makes a School Strong?

All I wanted was to play the romantic lead.

Let me explain.

A year ago, Williams Houseparent, Jane Jelowicki, sat down and told me she knew how to get the BCS staff involved in the Capital Campaign. "We'll do a fundraiser," she said. "The staff will put on a play and we'll have a gala and we'll raise a lot of money."

Now, I taught drama and directed and produced plays for over twenty years. I knew better than anyone what kind of work was involved. I also knew how much BCS demands of its faculty and staff. There was no way that this would ever happen.

"Great idea," I said. "The play should be You Can't Take It With You..."

"My thought exactly," said Jane.

"...and all you have to do is find a director, a designer, a costumier, a technician and, oh yes, a cast. As for me, I won't direct, I won't organize the evening, but if cast, I will act." (I really wanted to play the romantic lead.)

"No problem," said Jane. "I'll get right onto it."

Not a chance, I thought.

Wrong again!

Jane strong-armed Hugh Doheny's fourth daughter, Lucy, into the director's chair, Nancy Layton's husband, Joe Stairs, to the design table and then went to work on the cast. I auditioned and said all I wanted was to play the romantic lead. They nodded their heads, shook their heads and cast me as Grampa...

Oh well...

Jane and Lucy knew that the strength of a school often lies in the willingness of its faculty and staff to extend their commitment beyond their job description. They also figured that the strength of a faculty/staff lay in their delight in things eccentric. And finally, they realized that BCS was strong!

So it was that BCS, which stresses the importance of leadership by example, presented to students and colleagues and friends and relatives, and finally to gowned or black-tied gala-goers, an example of the utter joy a group can get from working hard together for a good cause – even at the risk of looking foolish!

I cannot review the play. I think it was pretty good, and certainly, the critics from the senior drama classes were kind. I can, however, comment on the evening.

It was fantastic, certainly one of the most stylish and elegant that I've ever seen at BCS. From the dresses to the dinner jackets, from the cocktails to the coq au vin, from the orchestra to the auction, BCS delivered an evening to remember. It was an evening inspired by a dynamic and creative committee of Montreal Mums, catered by the extraordinary talent of our own Richard Guay, drawn together by the patient determination of the Development Office staff, and made successful through the generous support of so many BCS parents and friends.

So what makes a school strong? Teamwork; the joy of working together for a single cause; the willingness to go beyond what is required and lead by example. The BCS faculty and staff did this last April.

But all I wanted was to play the romantic lead.

—Lewis Evans,

Director of Development and Alumni Relations

people who work at BCS: pride in our predecessors that they did their work well, and confidence in ourselves that we are seen to be carrying on in their path.

The visible signs of this generosity should begin this spring, when the School will be a place of exciting constructive chaos. Then we will see the physical improvements, but this campaign has also focussed on programme, and already we are seeing the effects of this.

The Ondaatje Endeavour to Lapland

Katie Breen and her partner, Derek Muller, successfully led three BCS students, Eric Inoue, Joselito Scrosati and Nick Nijrjesi on a cross-country ski trek through the Kungsleden in Lapland. This is how they spent their March break in 2002.

Endowed by Christopher Ondaatje and his daughter Janet (BCS '83), this first Ondaatje Endeavour was not perfect, it was not easy, it was not all fun, and therefore it was everything one would have wanted it to be! It was indeed a challenge, physically, mentally and socially. It was surely an experience that each of the five will never forget.

The Model UN Trip to Beijing

Joy MacLaren of the King's Hall Class of 1940 has been on both sides of the fund-raising equation. She has asked for money, and she has given it. It should be no surprise that she was specific about her gift to the Campaign. It was to be spent right away and to be spent on students – preferably for something that involved service. This coincided with the increased interest, thanks to Form VI student, Tara Yip-Banniq, in the Model UN. (Please see page 13 of this Bulletin.)

So it was that Albert MacDonald, wearing his debating hat, led a delegation of senior BCS Students to the World Model UN held last March in Beijing.

The BCS Delegation arrives in China: Bambi Mpoy, Kevin Lindstrom, Vanessa Caldwell, Tara Yip-Banniq, Lily Dionne and Andy Kalevar.

THE RICHARD H. TOMLINSON CHAIR FOR SCIENCE

THE CHAIR FOR SCIENCE would provide increased funds for the instruction of Science annually.

As Science is, in the first four years, a core subject that must be offered, this money will not go to pay a teacher's salary. Rather it will be targeted directly at enhancing and enriching an already effective, yet frustrated, department.

The Science department's annual budget is the highest among the academic budgets at BCS, and it needs to be increased. The new facilities from the Capital Campaign will so enhance the efficiency of the teaching that more students will be able to perform more experiments, and so costs will grow.

This increase in student activity will create an increased demand on lab time and so a full-time lab assistant will be needed to support the teaching of Science.

Money from this Chair will fund professional development at courses and conferences. It will provide our teachers with the means to stay on the front line of ever-changing technology.

It will also bring to the students and teachers of the BCS Science Department the means and the time to produce Science fair projects, to enter – and to win – contests in-house and inter-scholastically, and so improve the reputation of the department – and of the School.

The Chair for Science will directly impact the quality of the teachers and the quality of the program.

It is a fine thing when an Old Boy can look back on his BCS days and see the good times and the bad, and still realize that the School was a block on which he built his future.

It is a wonderful thing when that Old Boy gives back and so improves the circumstance of the successors of those teachers who helped him.

Dr. Richard H. Tomlinson has worked at McMaster University for 52 years. He has seen former students become professorial colleagues and retire, while he works on. He loves what he does; he loves his lab, his nuclear reactor, his research.

When Dick Tomlinson came to BCS in 1937, there was no room for him in the dorm, so he and Mike Doyle were billeted at Fred Pattison's house for the first term. Fred and Dick hit it off; they had things in common: a deep interest in things scientific and really sharp minds!

Those of us who remember Fred Pattison, who were taught by Fred Pattison, who were beaten by Fred Pattison – as Dick and I both were – know that Fred Pattison was not one who suffered fools gladly!

Dick and Fred got along well, and this set the young student on his path to science, first at Bishop's, then to McGill for his Ph.D. and thence to McMaster where he is to this day.

During his career as a professor, Richard Tomlinson invested somewhat in the business world and when he stopped lecturing at age 65, he decided to play the market rather more intently. (He once confessed that this held his attention for a while, but that he lost interest because "it was too easy!") He amassed a fortune far greater than his needs and so he made the biggest gift ever to a Canadian University – $64 million to McGill. He has not forgotten the institutions he attended before McGill either, and this year he has undertaken to fund the Richard H. Tomlinson Chair for Science at BCS.

Dick Tomlinson believes in people. He believes that the best way to improve an educational institution is to invest in the people there, in the teachers and in the students. This is why there are several Academic Chairs at McGill that will bear his name and by 2003, McGill will have 51 Tomlinson Scholars. And this is why he has chosen the fund our Chair in Science.

For all his celebrity because of his gift to McGill, Dick leads a quiet life. He plays his golf, he enjoys great food and wine, he loves his home of 42 years and he works in his lab. In his spare time, he keeps his own counsel concerning investments and he targets institutions worthy of his generosity for his charity.

BCS is fortunate to be one of them.

Scott Abbott attended BCS from Form IV to Form VII. He involved himself in the School, as a student, as a cadet (ending up with the rank of Staff Sergeant), as an actor playing the Mayor in The Inspector General, but most of all, as manager for First Team Hockey. As a boy in the middle school, he was already fascinated by statistics, and as manager, he kept stats as they had never been kept before.

A McGill degree in Psychology followed by a Masters in Communications from the University of Tennessee brought him into the 70's when he worked for the Sherbrooke Record and The Canadian Press. Throughout this time, he and three friends would pass hour after hour challenging each other with arcane bits of information that most people would have the wit to forget.

One day, they asked themselves what they could do to turn this pastime into something rather more substantial. So it was that Trivial Pursuit was conceived – but the gestation period was a long one. The story that followed is the stuff of Canadian legend.

THE C. SCOTT ABBOTT CHAIR FOR ENGLISH

THE CHAIR FOR ENGLISH would provide increased funds for the instruction of English annually.

The current jargon from the Ministère de l'éducation du Québec directs schools to develop "cross curriculum competencies," which means teachers from different departments should work together more effectively. Immediately, a portion of these funds will be used for release-time to develop this pedagogical change.

As English is a core subject and must be offered, this money will not go to pay a salary. Rather it will be targeted directly at enhancing and enriching an already effective department.

Money from this Chair will cover and increase both the department budget and the Inscape budget. It will fund professional development at courses and conferences. It will provide the means to stay on the front line of ever-changing technological needs.

It will also bring to the students and teachers of the BCS English Department the opportunity to visit places like Stratford, Broadway, or, who knows, the West End.

The Chair for English will give one of the best departments at BCS the chance to become one of the best English Departments anywhere.

Scott is now a director of Horn-Abbot Ltd., co-owner of the Devil's Pulpit and Devil's Paintbrush Golf Courses and founder and sole owner of the Brampton Battalion OHL hockey team. He never misses a game and his interest in the well-being of his players is unparalleled. At every game, he sits opposite his team so he can see their faces and he keeps track of the statistics. While the Battalion has not yet risen to the top of its league, Scott has acquired the services of a top-line coach in Stan Butler – a man who has been Head Coach of the Canadian Junior team for the last two World Championships.

Now, Scott has undertaken to fund the C. Scott Abbott Chair in English at BCS. He has agreed to do this because he looks back on four crucial years of his growing up in Lennoxville with good memories. Graham Patriquin fed his curiosity for things historical, Lewis Evans taught him to write and the finicky rules of grammar, Sam Abbott taught him to stand up straight and to look a person in the eye... and so it goes. Now, thirty-five years after he graduated, Scott has funded the Chair for English – "partly because of the English I was taught at BCS, but mostly because it appeals to my own interest in pedantry," he said.

And what is Scott's favourite game? Not Trivial Pursuit! For him, it is simply too easy. Scrabble. It should come as no surprise that this stats fanatic, with a competitive edge and a penchant toward pedantry, would love the great word game!

BCS Faculty and Staff send a message to the greater community:

You Can't Take It With You!

From casting in October to production in April, a group of faculty, staff and friends of BCS worked with intermittent fury to produce the great American comedy, You Can't Take It With You by George S. Kaufman and Moss Hart. The undertaking began with levity and laughter, but as the end hove in sight, this cast of amateurs dug deep. The Players' Club had just produced a superb production of Shakespeare's As You Like It – a play with a far greater degree of difficulty – and the teachers were determined to follow the example set by their students.

Gala Emcee, Doug Patriquin (BCS '64), and committee member, Mary White sing "'A' You're Adorable" as Don Patriquin (BCS '56) accompanies them on piano.

The play served as a perfect beginning to a sensational evening.

The formal Top Hat Gala that followed was a hit. because it was under the inspired leadership of a committee of mothers. No sooner had Ginger Petty heard about the play than she envisioned the Top Hat evening that would come. Gerry Casey picked up on the idea and threw herself into decorations; Gail Skutezky and Eleanor Gribble supported in every possible way, and Mary White proved invaluable as the link between the School and the Montreal Committee. They decorated Ross Hall, chose the menu, begged and donated auction items and then led with their bidding. The result was an evening to be remembered – an evening, which, incidentally, supported the Campaign both emotionally and financially.
